

Cofece submits for public consultation its draft amendment to the Regulatory Provisions of the Federal Economic Competition Law

- The amendments to the Regulatory Provisions aim at strengthening the current competition regulations.
- The consultation will be open from today until January 2, 2024.

Mexico City, December 14, 2023.- The Federal Economic Competition Commission (Cofece or Commission) started a public consultation on its Preliminary Draft of amendments to the Regulatory Provisions of the Federal Economic Competition Law (LFCE in Spanish). The amendments aim to strengthen the current competition regulations, particularly in relation to the issuance of precautionary measures and bail requests.

It is of relevance for the Commission to know the opinion of the economic agents, the private sector, and society in general; therefore, it opens a public consultation period for 20 calendar days that starts on December 14 of this year and ends on January 2, 2024.

Those interested in submitting opinions and comments may review the Preliminary Draft (in Spanish) and submit their proposal by e-mail: consulta-publica1@cofece.mx; or directly at the Cofece's Filing Office located at Avenida Revolución number 725, floor 1, Colonia Santa María Nonoalco, Alcaldía Benito Juárez, Zip Code 03700, Mexico City.

Cofece appreciates all valuable contributions to improve the regulatory provisions, promote and guarantee free market access and economic competition in Mexico, and facilitate its enforcement in favor of Mexican families, economic agents, and consumers.

MORE COMPETITION FOR A STRONGER MEXICO

*The Federal Economic Competition Commission safeguards competition and free market access.
Through its work, it seeks better conditions for consumers, that more services are supplied with higher quality and that there is a "level-playing-field" for companies.*
